

Research Development & Grant Writing News

The Office of Research Development's provides access to a monthly Research Development & Grant Writing Newsletter. This newsletter contains both articles and links to resources on the web and has been formatted so that readers can click on embedded hot links to find more information on subjects of interest. Check out new funding opportunities, tips for addressing agency policies, and articles focused on competitive proposal development.